

Skills for Inclusive Conversations

with Mary-Frances Winters

Shared Meaning Self-Assessment

	A Great Deal	Somewhat	Not at All
I am culturally self-aware.	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
I have explored my unconscious biases.		<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
I am comfortable talking about difficult subjects.	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
I believe that treating everyone the same is not the solution to polarization.			<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
I have studied my own and other cultures' norms and beliefs.		<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
I have a high degree of emotional intelligence.		<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
I readily acknowledge that I don't know what I don't know.			<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
I recognize there are differences that make a difference and I try not to minimize them.		<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
I have regular exposure to difference.		<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
I have meaningful relationships with diverse individuals and groups.	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
I can separate the person from their position.			<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
My organizational culture is ready to have Bold, Inclusive Conversations®.	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
There is a high level of trust in the organization.		<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>

There is a high level of trust within my team.	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
I am aware of my power and privilege.	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
I already have a lot of experience with Bold, Inclusive Conversations®.	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>		